Selectmen's Meeting

MATTAPOISETT STORM STUDY

Mr. Sheldon Shapiro, director of the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Management, informed Selectmen that Mattapoisett has been chosen as the site of a study to assess the ability of a coastal town to react to a flood emergency. Mr. Shapiro said that the town is ideally located for such a study because of its potential for isolation when flood waters cut off acess, commercial and residential area location, the potential of river flood after storm waters back up the river flow and because the town faces a harbor that has potential for both direct wave hazard and storm flood surge. He said that his team will evaluate the town's preparation to deal with a future flood and would make an evaluation of what would happen after a flooding storm had passed. Mr. Shapiro said that his department needs a realistic report to give a true picture of the situation which confronts coastal towns after such an emergency in order to better coordinate state and town cooperation and aid.

Chairman William Hubbard assured Mr. Shapiro that the town welcomed his study and will assist him in any way to carry it

ORDER SEWER CONNECTION

A letter was received from Peter Plastridge, owner of Kitchen 21, requesting an extension until May of 1982 to tie in to the sewer line. Mr. Plastridge, in his letter, said he has found a contractor who will do the work but having this work done in the winter will increase the risk on the building. Selectmen did not agree and ordered an immediate tie-in.

STATE AID

Correspondence was received from the DPW requesting verification on the balance of State Aid Funds. According to the DPW's records, Mattapoisett has a balance under Contract #30456 of $487.03 (Brandt Island Road), and a total of $21,811.00 for FY '83.

Letters to The Editor

TO THE EDITOR

The recent articles appearing in the Standard Times and the Sippican Sentinel concerning two separate executive sessions, one held jointly with the Union 55, the ORR Committees and one held by ORR separately, are at best confusing.

The chairman of the ORR Committee, Marshall Severance, is himself confused and has demonstrated a lack of understanding as to what the open meeting law is all about. He illustrates this quite clearly with his vacillation from a position of the meetings were illegal, "we shan't do it again", to one of they were legal. His first position of "illegal" is reached after contacting legal counsel for the school committee Ropes & Gray, and his second position of "legal" was reached after contacting Ropes & Gray a second time. Could it be that our legal counsel is faulty or has the chairman misconstrued the facts. Chairman Severance cites a letter addressed to the Superintendent dated December 21, 1981 written by Warren Carley of Ropes & Gray, expressing an opinion backed up with a court case involving the City of Taunton, as the basis for his new position. After carefully reading both the letter and the judge's decision, I am even more convinced that the meetings were illegal.

Based on the judge's decision and the facts presented in the court case, the joint meeting of December 7, 1981 and the district's meeting of December 8, 1981 were in no way similar to the Taunton case. The judge ruled that the committee could enter into executive session and discuss non-union salaries if they were involved in the strategy of negotiations. The judge determined that the Taunton school committee legally discussed non-union personnel salaries in executive session because their decisions were used as part of the strategy in negotiating with 3 unions. They had discussed and voted to grant no raises to all non-union personnel including the superintendent during their executive session. The following week they publicly voted their decision, thereby sending a message to the unions with whom they were negotiating.

The December 7, 1981 joint meeting of the Superintendency Union 55 and ORR District Committees contained no such strategy nor could it legally. The superintendency union exists for one reason only and that is for small towns to be able to hire a superintendent jointly. The Union 55 Committee cannot legally bind any of the three towns to their decisions. All votes must be reaffirmed at each of the towns' local school committee meetings, and any one of the towns may vote down or modify any and all decisions voted by the union committee without any regard to reprisals.

At the December 7, 1981 joint meeting the business manager presented new salary schedules and the administration's rationale for the changes along with their recommendation that they be adopted and placed in the budgets for budgetary purposes. "Negotiation strategy?" One could hardly believe so even with a wild stretch of the imagination.

The ORR Committee met the following night where once again non-union personnel were discussed and not in a relationship as to the bargaining position of the committee nor any negotiation strategy.

In the January 13, 1982 edition of the Standard-Times, Chairman Severance states, "It's very frustrating to have someone operating outside of the committee, and it makes me think that I might not want to discuss certain things with that person for fear that it might get blown". As for "operating outside of the committee", the chairman evidently does not understand representative government either. The people of Mattapoisett sent me to the district committee to represent them and not to be a pawn of the superintendent or chairman of the committee, rubber stamping all that is put before me. Further, the chairman states he "might not want to discuss certain things with that person for fear that it might get blown". I have sat on the committee for 7 years and through countless executive sessions without divulging their details. To state publicly that a meeting is illegal because certain topics were discussed is hardly releasing details of the meeting. It makes one wonder if the chairman thoroughly believes that only his opinion is the right one and that he alone should control what information is given to the committee members and the public.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Recent news articles and comments about town (Mattapoisett) concerning the former Mattapoisett Grange Hall raise some questions in my mind about this whole affair.

These news reports and comments make it appear that the Mattapoisett Police Department has the blessings of all concerned in its possible occupation of this delapidated structure. The sources of these stories haven't said whether or not the residents living next to and in the neighborhood of the former Grange Hall have given their consent to having a police station with all of its accompanying activity and noise under their windows.

Have these residents been told that the police department very probably will request permission to bury a large gasoline tank such as it has at its present location? Is there proper distance from surrounding property for such an installation?

Have the owners of residences in proximity to the former Grange Hall - on Route 6, North Main Street, Cathaway Lane and around the corner on Acushnet Road - considered the effect a police station could have on the resale value of their properties?

It will be interesting to see how much of the former Grange Hall will be recognizable inside and out if and when the police department does its renovating.

Who wants an historic building with blacktop all around it, cruisers and other vehicles parked around it, a tall antenna on it or next to it, fluorescent lighting illuminating the interior and probably a neon, or other type of, sign outside calling attention to its occupants?

A few years down the road, will the police department want to build an addition to the building?

I need convincing that this corner - at a busy intersection, with houses all around it - is a good place for a police station, and neither do I believe $100,000 to $140,000 (private money or otherwise) should be spent on its renovation.

I suggest tearing down the building and turning over the land to the Mattapoisett Land Trust with the stipulation nothing ever be built or parked there; that it be attractively landscaped and contain an appropriate marker explaining what once occupied that corner - a marker similar to the one in Shipyard Park that honors former shipbuilders of Mattapoisett.

The Grange always has been interested in land and its value to mankind and animals, so what finer tribute could be paid than to set aside this property as a quiet refuge and an attractive entrance to Mattapoisett.

Not every corner of every intersection has to have a business on it.

Yours truly,
A devoted resident

A band that's there and then it isn't; a dixieland combo that sets your hands to clapping and feet to tapping - that's part of what's in store at the free Children's Concert by John Pandolfi and the Regional Symphonic Band Sunday afternoon, January 31, at 3 p.m. at Old Rochester Regional High School.

It's the Tri-County Music Association's annual educational as well as entertaining program for youngsters made possible with assistance from Music Performance Trust Funds of New York and Local 214 of the American Federation of Musicians, AFL-CIO.

There always are surprises at this concert and any youngster who signs a card as he or she enters the auditorium is eligible to be picked to lead the band in a rousing march.

PROJECT LIFT-OLD HAMMONDTOWN SCHOOL

As reported in a recent issue of the Presto Press, Shirley Tinkham's fifth grade science class filled the sky above Old Hammondtown School with colorful balloons. Students were observing the effect of wind currents on their balloons. Tags were attached to the balloons requesting anyone finding one to contact the school.

WHALE WATCH

The Children's Museum will again be sponsoring a Spring Whale Watch this year. The success of last year's trip was most encouraging. This year, the date is Friday, April 23, during the April School vacation week.

The boat is again the Dolphin III and will leave Provincetown at 9:00 a.m. for the four hour trip.

March 12 is the deadline for registrations, so please call in as early as possible since there is a limited capacity on the boat. We cannot hold a space unless payment has been received by March 12.

No transportation will be provided to Provincetown but we will try to organize car pools and plan to leave the Museum in North Dartmouth at 6:30 a.m.

If the minimum number for chartering the Dolphin III cannot be reached, the Whale Watch will be cancelled. Further details will be provided to those registering.

"SOLAR IS NOW"

That was the theme of a presentation by Mr. Warren Mackensen of Sippican Solar Systems to Team 7E on Friday, January 8. Mr. Mackensen began the program by discussing the global energy picture. After proposing various methods of conservation, the talk turned to solar energy. The point was driven home to students that solar energy is being used right now all over the country. Mr. Mackensen explained that the most practical application is for heating water. Illustrations of thermal collectors and an explanation of air and liquid systems followed.

Students were especially interested in slides showing a Rockland, Massachusetts school which is using solar energy to heat its water and also for space heating. After viewing slides of actual homes using thermal collectors, Mr. Mackensen explained the reasons for positioning panels for optimum efficiency.

The question and answer period was lively. Students were curious about the efficiency of each system, the history and future of solar energy, and of course, cost. Mr. Mackensen suggested an experiment students could perform at home in order to see how thermal collectors realcation, the team did very well to score as high as they did. Coach of the Riflery team is Richard A. Harlow, Jr. who commented that the team is certainly off to a great start.

VARSITY SQUASH - Tabor 5 and Harvard Freshmen 2 at the Saturday, January 9th, match at Cambridge. This a great match for Tabor and the entire team had a challenge and had to make a strong comeback for the final victory. Local residents James Tomlinson, Ellie Pierce and Rusty Fearing, all of Marion, all won. Coach Silipo commented: "We are making great progress but we have a long hard road ahead".

J.V. HOCKEY - Tabor 6 and the Cheshire Bantams 3 in a game in Marion on Saturday, January 9th. The first period was quickly paced with a score of 1-1. The second period continued with good up and down hockey. Tabor goalie made several crucial saves for the team. The score after the second half was 4-2. The third period Tabor began to dominate while the other team became tired. The final score was 6-3. Coach Paul White commented, "We started and passed well, especially since this was our first game following the long vacation. Also, we committed few penalties."

VARSITY HOCKEY - Tabor 6 and Andover 3 was the score on Saturday, January 9th, at Andover. Andover outshot Tabor 32-25 but the second period through a lot of quick sticking brought the score to Tabor 4 and Andover 2. The third period Andover put another puck into the net to bring the score to 4-3 but Tabor came back with 2 more goals and walked away victorious with the final score 6-3. Coach is Mr. Doug Morrell.

SMU Theater

PRESENTS "TRAVESTIES"

"Travesties", the comedy by Tom Stoppard that won the Tony Award for Best Play on Broadway in 1975, will be presented by the Southeastern Massachusetts University Theatre Company on January 21 through 24 at 8 p.m. in the SMU auditorium.

"The play is a madcap farce replete with limericks, puns, and paradoxes," says its director, Angus Bailey. "It is a freewheeling commentary on art and politics since World War I destroyed the established order. Based on an historic coincidence that Lenin, James Joyce, and Tristan Tzara, founder of dadaism, were all living in Zurich during that war, 'Travesties' illuminates the present with its Marx-Brothers vision of the past."

The cast includes Norman Byron, Abe Novick, Tim McCarthy, Victor Duphily, John Delaney, Denny Maloney, Christine Romeo, and Liz Stott. The production was designed by Marrianna Mladinov, a professional scenic designer with major credits in Europe and Israel. Stage manager is Peter Carlin and lighting is by Ed Gordon.

For more information and reservations call the SMU Theatre Company office at 999-8167 or 678-7521, extension 8167.

Plymouth County Republican Club on Thursday, January 28, at 8:30 p.m.

Robinson's efforts in 1981 led to his selection for two prestigious awards: one nationwide, the other statewide. Early in the year, the National Republican Legislators' Association named Bill Robinson one of ten "Outstanding Legislators" in the nation, the first such recognition for a Massachusetts Legislator. In late 1981, the Massachusetts Municipal Association, an organization of mayors, selectmen and other locally elected officials conferred on Robinson their "Legislator of the Year" award. It cited Robinson's budget work and commended him on his success in reconvening last year's Constitutional Convention.

The organization will hold its meeting at the Ridder Country Club in Whitman.

Failure to have the proper items available for a Coast Guard Boarding Officer could subject you to a civil penalty of up

March of Dimes

President Ronald Reagan has praised the March of Dimes for its role in the "remarkable progress" being made in the prevention and treatment of birth defects.

The President, in proclaiming January 1982 as March of Dimes Birth Defects Prevention Month, noted that the work of the voluntary health organization "is made possible through the generosity of millions of our citizens and the dedicated efforts of tens of thousands of volunteers.

"This uniquely American volunteer spirit is a hallmark of the March of Dimes, for the people of our great nation accept personal responsibility for the health of children today and in the future."

President Reagan pointed out that "birth defects represent the nation's number one child health problem and in 1982 will strike one out of every twelve newborn infants with some form of mental or bodily damage."
